Editorial development proposal. Character assets and availability are not finalized.

Visual style guide

The next-generation voice / VISUAL HANDBOOK

Proposed art direction using the concept portrait as a reference—not a finalized character asset specification.

01 / Silhouette & wardrobe

Layered streetwear, asymmetric accents and practical footwear for an explicitly adult character. Use original graphics, never copied game skins or brand logos.

02 / Color & texture

Charcoal and off-white grounded by vivid lime or coral accents; technical mesh, cotton and subtle reflective details rather than an all-neon palette.

03 / Light & framing

Crisp daylight or readable practical light, with graphic urban backgrounds. Mix full-body action frames and expressive close-ups without obscuring the face.

04 / Movement & continuity

Quick, intentional gestures and rhythmic cuts with moments to listen. Keep hair, facial features and outfit motifs stable; avoid child-coded styling or borrowed franchise imagery.

Continuity priority: preserve original identity across wardrobe, lighting, expression and localized versions. Review source assets and disclose synthetic imagery.

Representative content treatment

The next-generation voice / VISUAL HANDBOOK

30–45-second cross-media short · proposed

Outside the quest

In an original game-world setting, an adult adventurer notices a stranded ally beyond the main route. A brisk setup gives way to a deliberate choice to help.

01 Opening: a wide action frame shows the main route and an ally separated by a broken crossing.

02 Turn: she stops, delivers the sample line and looks away from the expected objective.

03 Resolution: she starts building a new crossing; the final frame favors collaboration over a victory pose.

Proposed deliverables

Proposed package: original-world script, action storyboard and captioned horizontal and vertical concept edits; no game partnership or playable integration is implied.

Illustrative scene proposal only. No completed footage, release, client engagement or platform partnership is claimed.
